residence, it will be regarded as a business activity.

(v) Profit earning: One of the main purpose of business is to earn income by way of profit. No business can survive for long without earning profit. That is why businessmen make all possible efforts to maximise profits, by increasing the volume of sales or reducing costs.

(vi) Uncertainty of return: Uncertainty of return refers to the lack of knowledge relating to the amount of money that the business is going to earn in a given period. Every business invests money (capital) to run its activities with the objective of earning profit. But it is not changes in consumer tastes and fashions, changes in methods of production, strike or lockout in the work place, increased competition in the market, fire, theft, accidents, natural calamities, etc. No business can altogether do away with risks.

1.4 COMPARISON OF BUSINESS, PROFESSION AND EMPLOYMENT

As has been mentioned earlier, economic activities may be divided into three major categories viz.,

- (i) Business
- (ii) Profession
- (iii) Employment

Business Functions at Enterprise Level

Business includes a wide variety of functions performed by many different kinds of organisations called business enterprises or firms. Financing, production marketing and human resource management are the four major functions which are performed by business enterprises to carry on business. Financing is concerned with mobilising and utilising funds for running a business enterprise. Production involves the conversion of raw materials into finished products or generation of services. Marketing refers to all those activities which facilitate exchange of goods and services from producers to the people who need them, at a place they want, at a time they require and at a price they are prepared to pay. Human resource management aims at ensuring the availability of working people who have necessary skills to perform various tasks in enterprises.

certain as to what amount of profit will be earned. Also, there is always a possibility of losses being incurred, in spite of the best efforts put into the business.

(vii) Element of risk: Risk is the uncertainty associated with an exposure to loss. It is caused by some unfavourable or undesirable event. The risks are related with certain factors like Business refers to those economic activities, which are connected with the production or purchase and sale of goods or supply of services with the main object of earning profit. People engaged in business earn income in the form of profit.

Profession includes those activities, which require special knowledge and skill to be applied by individuals in
